DRAFT ABSTRACT

Aim is to initiate and stimulate the interaction between demanding and supplying partners of climate services in Africa. Examples will be presented of experiences, best practices, challenges and opportunities, after which the participants will be encouraged to exchange ideas.

Participants from the audience get the chance to pitch a problem for discussion in smaller groups.

After the presentations there will be small break-out groups that discuss statements made by the presenters and pitchers.

At the end all participants are requested to contribute their views on practices, challenges and opportunities to the "wrap-up -board"
